[the premise]:

We're trying something new this year. Both our middle school and high school groups are going to two great conventions in one at the PCTC. At the PCTC each group gets their own convention to hang out at with God in the middle.

(CON'T ON BACK...)

A weekend away in Harrisburg addressing some stuff that will challenge the way we think about life.

IMPORTANT: Hey youth! Do us a favor and leave personal music devices at home (and try not to use cell phones unless emergencies occur). It's harder to build relationships with each other if all of our headphones are in :-). Thanks!

Any questions? Please contact Scott at the JC offices or on his cell. Please encourage your teen to be a part of PCTC 2012. It will be the highlight of the winter for their relationship with Jesus.

Be His,
Scott Velasquez
